GLA & Company, a regional law firm based in the Middle East, has officially launched its Dubai office making it the firm's first office in the United Arab Emirates. The newly launched office will be providing its legal services in association with Mohammad Al Saadi Advocates & Legal Consultants.

This will be the firm's second full-service office in the GCC region, in addition to having affiliates in Saudi Arabia, Qatar and Egypt.

"After many years of working with all types of clients in each and every jurisdiction in the GCC and the greater MENA region, we will now have the opportunity to service our clients more efficiently and effectively with a base in Dubai being the business hub of this region. We will continue to invest where our clients need us, and to provide them with the skills and experience they need in areas with the greatest potential for growth", said managing partner of GLA & Company, Alex Saleh (pictured), who now takes a leading regional role within the firm with respect to its M&A and Private Equity practice. In terms of future expansion, GLA & Company plans on having full offices in Saudi Arabia and Egypt by the end of 2022. The firm now has full-service offices in Kuwait (25+ lawyers) and Dubai (10+ lawyers) with affiliates in Saudi Arabia, Qatar and Egypt.
